Dear Parents

Re: Covid-19 & Cambridge Exams

Following my letter on Friday about travel during the forthcoming Thingyan holiday you may wish to consider extra precautions as your child is about to sit their IGCSE, AS or A Level Cambridge examinations.

As it stands today all Cambridge exams in the June 2020 series are going ahead as they work in 160 different countries and cannot make changes at short notice, due to the complexity of world-wide timetabling.

I wish to reassure you that we are working closely with Cambridge and where necessary Universities to ensure Network students have a successful examination series and their University applications are not affected.

In light of the information over the weekend about the quarantining of arrivals into Yangon I recommend that all Year 11 to 13 students do not travel outside Myanmar, during the Thingyan holiday.

I also ask that all parents update their email addresses if necessary through the parent portal.

We will be monitoring this situation continually and will provide any further information that arises. In the meantime, guidance is available on the Cambridge website.

Yours sincerely

Carl Dent
